

1

Costello, David F. The World of Dolphins.
New York: J.B. Lipincott & Co., 1966.
pp. 55-67

Source Card

- The bibliography is on the top of the first card in MLA format.
- When you take notes on this source, you don't need to recopy the bibliography. Just write #1 in the right hand corner.
- When you go to a different source (book, magazine, encyclopedia), change the number in the corner to #2, #3, etc.

1a

Types of Dolphins

--common
--bottle-nosed

Note Card

- Take notes on only one topic (or question) on each note card. Notes should be in phrases, not complete sentences. You may use bullet points.
- All notes on this book will have #1 in the corner. This way you will know what book the cards go to if you get them mixed up.

Note Card

Habitats

1b

--oceans of the world

Note Card

Food

1c

--fish

--squid

--shellfish

General Characteristics of All Dolphins

- small mammal: swims gracefully and fast
- similar to whale
- beaklike snout

Communication

- man not successful in communicating with
- communicates by making sounds through the air passage
- natural sonar system

Description of Common

- black back
- white underside
- up to 6 ft in length
- weighs 150 lbs
- beak is 6 inches long
- 80 to 100 teeth

Interesting Facts

- follow ships
- harbingers of a successful voyage
- ancient Greeks considered sacred to the god Apollo